AMENDMENT AND RESPONSE TO OFFICE ACTION

Dear Sir:

In response to the office action mailed December 21, 1995, applicants hereby state as follows:

Please delete claims 1 through 24 and replace with the following claims 27 through 33.

- 17 An aquatic therapy tank apparatus for holding water and having jets of water injected into the tank at a desired water flow rate for providing aquatic therapy and exercise comprising:
- a. A tank for retaining water, said tank having a front end, a back end, two opposing sides, and a bottom affixed to the ends and sides so as to allow it to hold water;
- b. Elongated treadmill means in said tank situated between the front end and back end with driving means for rotating the treadmill and having means for adjusting the speed of rotation;
- c. Elongated platform means for supporting the treadmill means, said platform means having a front end near the front end of the tank, and a back end near the back end of the tank;
